Improve your listening skills with Amy: What have they put you through1? Curtis: I've been arrested for queuing2 an ambulance. Amy: Oh, my God. I didn't think that was the story I was going to choose. Curtis: No, this is a very, very bad thing to do. I don't recommend you do this. Amy: Okay. What is tailgating? Curtis: Tailgating is following someone too close. So you usually have to leave a car length between the car in front of you and your car. And I at that point ... Amy: I had a very, very bad habit of driving too close. Curtis: Right. And in the middle, or I was between the emergency ambulance vehicle in front of me and a police car behind me. But I didn't know it was a police car because I didn't have the lights. Amy: Oh, it was a ghost car.3 Curtis: It was a ghost car. Amy: Sneaky4. Curtis: Or an un dialed car. Yes. Amy: Right. An un dialed car. Curtis: And immediately, he turned on his lights that were on his dashboard and on the front of his car and his siren. And he was crazy. Amy: It was. Curtis: But I was lucky about that too.5 Even though I was crazy, he didn't give me a ticket. Amy: Yes. Sometimes they let you out. Like you're letting yourself off Track 6 or I don't know. They give you, what's going on? A warning? Curtis: A Warning7 This tom Kenny text series is published by Cambridge University Press. First, I'm going to introduce you to some podcasts in English. (Podcasts are audio conversations that you can download for free.) Next, I'll share some YouTube channels that you might want to check out. (YouTube is a great place to find conversations in English.) Content:English conversations (Podcasts) for beginners If your listening is not so good, it is a good idea to listen to podcasts for English learners (because they are easy to understand). Below are some ESL podcasts that I recommend. Culips ESL Podcast This podcast is hosted by a group of teachers in English. What I like about this podcast is that teachers talk about a variety of topics (not just English learning). Therefore, listening to this podcast is a good way for beginners to learn new vocabulary. Effortless English Podcast (by AJ Hoge)Another Hoge)Other to help you improve your English. AJ Hoge, the host of this podcast, is an expert English teacher. Your podcast is easy to understand and interesting. I highly recommend it! English via the PondThis podcast is quite unique. It is presented by Jennifer of the UNITED States and Dan of England. If you listen to this podcast, you will learn American and British English at the same time. This is a great way to improve your listening in English! Luke's English PodcastA award-winning audio show for English learners. The show is presented by Luke, an English teacher from London. One thing beginners may like about this program is that some of the episodes have transcriptions! If you are a beginner, please listen to the podcasts above as much as possible. Once your listener improves, you'll be able to understand other types of podcasts (those that aren't made for English learners). If your listener is at an intermediate level (or higher), it's easier to find podcasts to listen to. (Not limited to ESL student podcasts.) Below are some interesting podcasts I've found. The NoSleep Podcast If you like scary stories, this is for you. The podcast compiles several short horror stories within each episode. They are well crafted, with expert storytelling and terrifying music to enhance the stories. Things you should knowThe podcast educates listeners on a wide variety of interesting topics like how the placebo effect works, how natural selection works, how online appointment works, and so on. This podcast is for everyone. No matter what your interests are, you're likely to find some episodes that interest you. The FilmcastA podcast for movie lovers. In this podcast, hosts discuss the latest movies, movie reviews, movie news, TV shows and entertainment. Many English learners love to learn English through film. If you're one of them, this podcast is for you. School of Greatness Do you love inspiring stories? In this podcast, the host interviews some of the largest people on the planet: from brilliant business minds, to world-class athletes, to some of the most influential thought leaders out there. By the way, do you want to improve your spoken English? If so, enter your email address to join my English speaking course: How to listen to podcasts on your phoneTo listen to podcasts on your phone, you need a podcast player. Simply go to your app store and search for podcast app and choose one with good ratings. (Or simply install Pocket Casts. It's the most popular podcast app.) Once installed, open the app and search for podcasts by entering a podcast name or a search. Some podcast apps (such as Pocket Casts & Podcast Addict) will allow you to download episodes to your phone. If your phone has limited internet data, I recommend that you download a lot of episodes in advance over a WIFI network. This way, you can listen to conversations in English without using your phone's internet data. Don't forget to delete delete episodes from time to time otherwise your phone will run out of memory. How to download podcasts as MP3 filesI don't want to use a podcast app for some reason, you can download the conversations directly to your computer/phone as MP3 files. Here's how: First, go to the podcast website. You'll see a list of episodes, click an episode title to open that episode's page. Step 2: On the page of that episode, locate the download link or icon and click on it. Note: Different websites will have different designs. But the steps to download audio files are pretty much the same. Be sure to download a lot of audio files so you don't have to do this very often. YouTube: The place to get unlimited conversations in EnglishS watching YouTube videos is a great way to practice listening in English. The amount of content on YouTube is crazy. New content is added every minute. The best way to get started is to subscribe to the YouTube channels you're interested in. Personally, I love horror stories and mysteries, so I'm subscribed to channels like: Apart from scary channels, I'm also subscribed to channels that cover other topics like pets, movie reviews, etc. (Basically, things that interest me.) Here are a few more channels I'm subscribed to: If you don't understand the content, you can enable subtitles (see screenshot below). Although most subtitles are not 100% accurate because they are automatically generated by computers, they still give you an idea of what you are talking about. One thing I like about YouTube is how it still recommends interesting videos that I may like. This makes it easy to listen to English conversations throughout the day. If you don't use YouTube to improve your listening, you're missing a lot. So, create a YouTube account now and start subscribing to some interesting channels! Frequently Asked QuestionsIn this section, you can find my answers to frequently asked questions. What should I do if I don't understand the podcast I'm listening to? Most podcasts don't have transcripts. So if you don't understand some parts of the conversation, what should you do? Well, there are some things you can do. You can read about them in this article. Explains how to overcome this problem. The podcasts and YouTube channels you recommend don't interest me. Do you have any other recommendations? In this case, I suggest you search for interesting podcasts or YouTube channels yourself. People have different interests, so it's impossible for me to know what kind of content you'll like. The easiest way to do this is to open your podcast app (or YouTube) and enter a term related to the topics you're interested in. Keep in mind that if you are a beginner, you can difficult to find content that is easy to understand. Therefore, I suggest you look for podcasts or YouTube channels for English learners because the hosts of these programs tend to speak slower than usual. To find these programs, simply search for phrases related to learning English. Like English. How Do I download YouTube videos to my computer? I don't think you have to do that. You can simply watch videos directly on the YouTube website or in the YouTube app. But if you really want to do it, you can use a free program called 4K Video Downloader. This program is easy to use. And you can choose whether you want to download all the video or just the audio track. It's time to start improving your English listening skills! Podcasts and YouTube.I think these two media are the best resources to improve your English listening skills. English conversations in these two media are real spoken English - the kind of English you hear in English-speaking countries. And unlike audiobooks, podcasts and YouTube are FREE. Which means you can listen to conversational English without spending money. I hope you find this page useful. Now it's time for you to start subscribing to various YouTube channels and podcasts!
